Mitchell's Story | Diesel

Mitchell always knew he wanted to be a diesel mechanic.

"I thought it was a good idea to get started on my career, but I wanted to complete Year 12 as well."

Mitchell enrolled in SchoolTech and began his studies. Mitchell never gave up. In the school holidays he continued to do work experience, hoping that his dedication would pay off.

At the end of two years of valuable work experience, his employer offered him a full-time apprenticeship. His employer had seen Mitchell mature over the two years and admired his dedication.
